Key attraction of Tbilisi, Georgia

Tbilisi is 1600 years old city, so it certainly has lots of things to offer. It is the place where it all happens. Politically, socially, culturally, economically - Tbilisi is the hub of South Caucasus and Central Asia where one gravitates for fun and excitement. It’s old city with narrow, winding streets, beautiful gorgeous buildings, old balcony houses with the appropriateness of contemporary architectural insertions from a presidential palace to shopping malls, leisure facilities, bridges, parks.

There is a wide array of good places to eat, and enjoy a busy cultural scene and nightlife. There are plenty of clubs and bars worth visiting after a busy day at Caucasus University. Just to taste various Georgian wine (it is widely believed that Georgia is where wine production first began) and food while enjoying live music.

So you should come here Because of the look of the city, the friendliness of the people that will make all and every day of your visit more interesting and simply because that Tbilisi is stunning, unbelievably invigorating and the place for that new experience you are in a need now.
